SAID IN CYPRESS

By Newsy

When several of us attended the Ice Follies at Pan Pacific recently, Mr. and Mrs. Oren Harvey decided it would be best to leave Frannice Joan, three years of age, at home. She was somewhat mollified by her parents' explanation of why she couldn't go along, but admonished her mother to "look around for little boys and girls. And if you see any there, next time I'll go with you to see the 'Ice Cubes'!"

You'll know when summer really arrives. It's about time for the Cina-Car to begin its full-time operation schedule.

Which reminds us that Dale went out with the "Colorado Cutie" the other evening. As they were driving through a suburb of L. A. late, a burglar alarm suddenly rang out in the still of the night. She reports that Dale's first reaction was to step on the brake. But before the car lost too much speed, he changed his mind, transferred his foot back to the accelerator, and said, "To heck with it! Let someone else stick his neck out!"

Two sorority sisters came out from Los Angeles to participate in Buena Park's Hometown Day activities with us. We were joined at the Lynx ball game in the stadium by Joan Kroesen, our kindergarten-age niece. Scottye gave her two sticks of gum, but she had to be talked into breaking each one in two in order to have enough to go the rounds in her family. We asked her how much 2 and 2 were and she promptly chimed "four". After a few moments' study she volunteered that five and five are ten. We feigned surprise and asked her if she learned that in kindergarten. She scoffed at such a thought and admitted that she was just adding one day, and "figgered it out."

If you can beg, borrow or steal a graduate from Anaheim high school to be interested in this year if there's not one of those beguiling creatures in your family, you will be interested in the opportunity to hear the commencement speaker, Roger Deas. We heard him at one of the sessions of the 25th convention of the business girls' sorority to which we belong in San Francisco two years ago. He is super.

Make Final Plans For Big Dance

Plans are shaping up for the entertainment and fun planned for those who attend the dance to be given by the Cypress Volunteer firemen on Saturday evening, June 14, in the fire hall. Proceeds will be used as part of the fund being raised to buy a rescue truck to carry the resuscitator and other first aid equipment.

Tickets for the prizes to be given away that night will be taken out of circulation on Monday, June 9, so those who still desire to purchase the ducats must look after this detail by this weekend.

Items slated to go into someone's homes that night are a radio, waffle iron, roaster and deep fryer. Ed Robinson is dance chairman.

Women's Club To Hold Meet

Members of the Cypress Women's community club will meet for their regular dessert luncheon and business meeting next Tuesday.

Mrs. Jake Van Dyke will be hostess at her home, 5252 Orange ave. She will be assisted by Mrs. H. J. G. Kreissler and Mrs. Frank Noe.

Local Deputy, J. Broadbelt, Aids Capture

Traditional suspicion of the policeman paid off Sunday night and resulted in capture of two safe crackers and their loot, just after they had robbed the safe of the Buena Park Lumber Co. of $2816.93 in cash and checks.

Deputy Sheriffs James Broadbelt and Boyd Lentz, cruising Grand ave. in a patrol car at 11:30 p.m. became suspicious of a car they saw parked under a tree in a field, close by a house. They weren't aware that the Lumber company safe, at 6586 Grand ave., was being robbed.

The "hunch" stakeout which paid off netted Marvin Wesley Autry, 32, and Cyril Hugh Pipkin, 31, alias Erwin L. Bell, both of Long Beach, and both ex-convicts.

When captured at 12:45 a.m., they were carrying $445.63 in cash and $2,371.30 in checks, taken from the lumber company safe.

Beside the Buena Park job, both men admitted burglarizing a safe

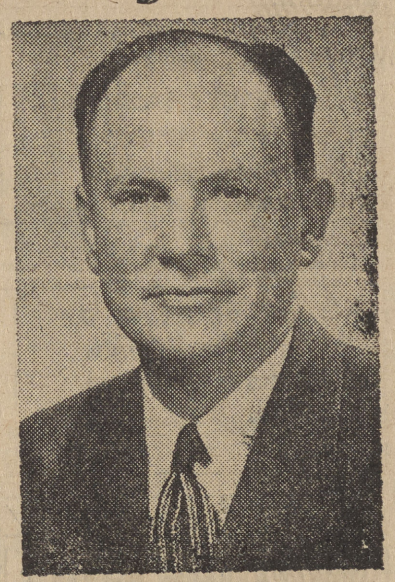
Speaker To Be J. Roger Deas



J. Roger Deas

J. Roger Deas of the American Can company will be speaker at the commencement exercises of Anaheim Union High school on June 12 at 7 p.m., at the Greek Theatre in Anaheim City park.

The container-making firm's representative, who is a former secretary to Governor Earl Warren and who is well-known for his inspirational discussions, will address the graduates and their guests on the subject, "The Future is Yours."

Deas has a broad background in education, government and business. He is past president of the California Junior Chamber of Commerce.

From 1944 to 1948, he was secretary of the San Francisco Planning Commission and served as an associate consultant to the U. S. Delegation to the Founding Convention of the United Nations in 1945.

Prior to joining the American Can company, he was a specialist in business administration in San Francisco. For nearly 12 years, he was on the staff of a San Francisco investment house.

New Firm Moves Into Cypress

Clyde Day and J. Clyde Riddle, co-partners in the business firm of the Day-Riddle Manufacturing company, are occupying the building at 5542 Lincoln ave., having moved here from El Modena. The plant will manufacture poultry cages, bulk feed tanks and brooders. Day states that the business normally takes three men to handle, but has run to as many as 10 employees.

The two Clydes are acquainted in this area, having participated in different organizations through their membership in the past.

The building, which was formerly occupied by the Cypress garage, covers approximately 3,000 sq. ft. of floor space.

Chamber Meets At New Time Monday Night

After several months of meeting on Thursdays, the Cypress Chamber of Commerce will resume its Monday night sessions, beginning next week at 8 p.m. in the school house.

White Gold Day

One of the topics for discussion will be White Gold Day for 1952. A committee was appointed to contact the park committee to find what plans they had made for this year's celebration. A report will be made on that discussion, and it is hoped initial groundwork might be laid for the affair.

Sewer Report

J. Lester Boyle Engineering firm, who is working on the survey to determine possibilities of a sewer collection and disposal system for the Cypress area, was contacted this week. Boyle said considerable work has been done on the survey, and he thought a rough written report of the work might be available for the July meeting.

Boyle added that Cypress people could expect some of his men to be in the area during the next few weeks asking questions concerning their sewer problems.

Anyone interested in attending the meeting is invited, whether they are members or not.

Begin Plans For Sale Of Fireworks

Larry Kelch, chairman of the fireworks' committee for the C. R. Rogers Memorial VFW post ,is whipping this year's campaign into high gear for a successful season.

Two stands are planned—one next to John's Shoe repair, and the other on the west end of town near the bridge, where it has been in past years. Sales are authorized to begin June 28 and will continue through July 4, with, prices to remain at last year's level, Kelch said.

Members of the committee besides the chairman are Harold Hall, Lee Shear and H. J. G. Kreissler, Additional sales force will be available through the post and its sister auxiliary.

Local Totals Reflect County Trend In Presidential Primary

Ralph J. McFadden
Returned as Supervisor

With two exceptions the candidates who succeeded in winning the nomination for office were successful in their campaigns in Cypress.

Those exceptions were in the McFadden-Faulkner race for supervisor in the third district which Faulkner carried here but lost in the county and the contest for Congressman from the new 28th district. Van Deerlin was high man in the field of contestants in the four Cypress precincts, while Utt won in the over-all count.

Final tabulations found the Warren delegation winning the nod to the Republican national convention and the Kefauver delegation to the Democratic. William F. Knowland was an easy victor to succeed himself in the United States Senate. LeRoy E. Lyon won over the field of four in the race for State Assembly.

Only one run-off in the November election resulted from the primary due to the cross-filing permitted in California. In the congressional race it was at first thought that James Utt had a sufficient majority in Orange county to insure his election on both tickets. An unexpectedly strong showing by the Democratic candidate from San Diego county, Lionel Van Deerlin, in his home county, indicated a probable run-off in the general election.

The figures given below are a total of the votes cast in the four Cypress precincts; including both republican and democratic tallies:

Warren Delegation	154
Werdel Delegation	145
Kefauver Delegation	394
Brown Delegation	115
William F. Knowland	520

State Explains Curb In Front Of Post Office

Grumbling by Cypress citizens over an apparently needless expenditure of state highway funds was explained this week to the Enterprise by the foreman for the state highway repair crews operating in this area.

Subject of the discussion was the new curbing that was installed in front of the Cypress post office last week. Objections were raised because the curb was purposely left out when the building was built to make it easier for the post office staff to pick up the heavy bags of mail from the highway post office bus and drag them into the building.

F. K. Hawkins, foreman of the highway crew, said that it was a law that curbs must be built, with the exception of where driveways are. He explained that it was dangerous to have a depression along the sidewalk where there is no driveway, because people getting out of cars might injure themselves when they step down expecting a curb, and not find one.

Whether or not a permit had been applied for when the sidewalk was built had not been ascertained at the time the paper went to press. Hawkins said the state would have insisted a curb be installed. A. E. Arnold owns the building.

Picnic Today —Planned By P.T.A.

Cypress P.T.A. sponsored school picnic and carnival is today, Friday. Beginning with a basket lunch which you may bring from home, or buy the makins' from a booth on the grounds, the afternoon will provide fun for all from 12:30 until four o'clock.

Next Thursday, June 12, is the last day of school. All pupils will attend a full day session with dismissal at the regular times except the eighth grade. They will be excused at 11:30 o'clock in the morning.

MORE AND MORE NEEDED

With the easing of restrictions on domestic and commercial construction an upswing may be looked for in the volume of such building which has been lagging recently. To the State of California this is important since it has a constant struggle to keep construction in line with the ever increasing population.

Even though, in recent years, we have built more new dwelling units than were constructed in the same period by several of the other largest states combined, we still don't have a housing surplus. And while all this record-breaking construction was going on there was also great activity in the repairing and modernizing of existing dwellings. The extent of this latter activity was indicated in some degree by the announcement of the state's largest bank that it had recently made its one millionth loan under Title I of F.H.A. This type of insured loan was inaugurated in 1933. The total amount involved exceeded $408 million. When one considers that this represents the lending of but one institution on just one type of loan, it can readily be seen that the overall figure for both construction and repairs has been enormous. But nothing short of an enormous outlay can provide and maintain the dwellings needed as a result of the great westward migration.

And if people continue to come here by land, sea and air (including stork transportation) our biggest building boom may be ahead of us.

OUT OF THIS WORLD

Its' pretty hard for the mind of the average man to grasp the stunning story of building a "space station" more than a thousand miles up in the sky as told in a recent issue of Collier's Magazine, but apparently such a project is no longer fantasy. It can be done.

Of course, it would take some doing—probably 10 years of work and four billions in money. But the results, says the experts, would be more certain than was the A-bomb before the Manhattan project was launched.

The artificial satellite which is envisioned would circle the globe every few hours and would be equipped with far-seeing "eyes"—powerful telescopes, optical screens, radarscopes and cameras—to keep the earth under constant observation. In this way all warlike preparations could be detected and stopped through atomic-headed missiles which could be hurled from the space station and guided accurately to earth by radar control.

It sounds like a Buck Roger's report. But science is closing the gap between the fantastic and the factual and the heavens now offer new frontiers to the mind of man. It's something to read and think about.

I RISE TO REMARK

By JOHN PHILLIPS

Your Congressman has just received the "Certificate, for Distinguished and Meritorious Service," awarded annually by the Regular Veterans Association, for "Patriotism and Integrity in Government." This was as much a surprise (I had no advance hint the award was to be given me) as it is appreciated. The Regular Veterans Association has worked ceaselessly and successfully, for all the years I have known it (and I am a Life Member) on behalf of the veterans of all wars. It has worked realistically, keeping constantly in touch with legislation and appropriations, and it has great influence. I am proud of the Certificate, which is now hanging, framed, in your Washington Congressional office.

This letter has spoken over and over (to the point of tiring you) of the importance of that feature of the form of government known as the "republic" which puts responsibility on the elected representatives. Any other kind of government moves toward democracy or toward autocracy, and thus to the end of representative government. Only the Representative in Washington, or the Legislator in Sacramento, actually knows what is in a bill when it is before him for a vote. He is the only one who can make the decision at that moment, on some specific bill, which may have changed many minds in its process through the Congress or the Legislature.

We had an example on the 9th, of what I try to keep before you. The committee on Ways and Means brought out H. R. 7800, by a vote (in committee) almost on straight party lines. It did not ask for a rule under which the bill could be discussed fully on the Floor and amendments offered. It asked for a "suspension of the rule," which allows only 40 minute debate; permits no amendments, and requires a 2/3 vote to pass. The administration depended on the good points of the bill, which others like myself would favor, to put it through.

The bill however would have given Oscar Ewing, the administrator of the Federal Security Administration, the start of those powers which he has been trying to obtain for a long time. He could have made the rules and regulations covering medical examinations for disability; he could have selected the examiners; he could have reimbursed applicants' travel to and from the examinations, and he could have denied an application if the applicant refused to take a recommended rehabilitation course, made possible by the act. It gave Mr. Ewing a start of control over certain medical activities.

The vote was 149 for; 140 against; less than the necessary two-thirds. In the California delegation, Anderson, Phillips and Scudder voted against the bill. 14 California Representatives were away, probably back campaigning in their Districts, where I hope to be when you read this. 6 Californians voted for it, presumably preferring to vote for a bill with doubtful provisions, rather than give time explaining to their people why they had voted against a bill containing provisions strongly desired by men and women receiving social security benefits. This is the rock on which representative governments are wrecked; not by this one example, of course, but on the theory back of it. I want the people to understand: a democracy is weakness; a republic is strength. We have come to the end of an era in America, and we are about to make the next decision. As they say in the lodge, "be careful how you vote."

Practically, what will happen will be that the bill, refused passage on the 19th, will go back to the committee, which will undoubtedly strike out the undesirable passages. The bill will again come to the Floor, and be passed. There would seem to be little point in talking against socialism, and then voting for a bill containing the introductory provisions for socialism, just because the folks want such a vote, not understanding the situation. It is better to stick to the republic, and the theory that responsibility rests in the elected representatives.

COUNTY COMMENT

By GEORGE E. HART

Now that the election is over, and the sweep is gathering up the shreds of tattered headgear that was tossed so bravely into the campaign ring last February and March, it's time to get back to normal topics.

Sure, sure, candidates, we understand. The world is full of liars. But we've got to get back to normal topics. Like water.

In the dying days of the campaign the Orange County Water district was attending to its business as watchdog of Orange county's water rights and water supply.

Representatives of the district got in some licks that may provide a permanent barrier against up-river raids on our water.

It is still not certain, as the State Division of Water Resources has not yet decided the matter that could, if decided our way, lay down a policy that would end the necessity of ceaseless vigilance against raids. But our representatives feel sure it will be decided our way.

As it is now, we must officially protest and oppose with evidence at a public hearing, every attempt to appropriate water in the Santa Ana river system.

Our opposition, so far successful in every case, is that the law permits appropriation of surplus water only, from any stream, and there is no surplus in any of the streams from which diversion attempts have been made.

This time, at a hearing in San Bernardino city hall a few days ago, Orange County Water district representatives presented evidence that there is no surplus water anywhere in the Santa Ana river system.

If that view is accepted by the State Division of Water Resources, any future application for appropriation of water anywhere in the Santa Ana watershed probably would be denied automatically, without necessity of opposition from Orange county.

In accordance with customary procedure, Commissioner Gordon Zander of the state body took the case under advisement for a later ruling by the state division, expected within a short time.

DeBie Home From Korea

Visiting at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. DeBie, 5311 Orange ave., is Cpl. Henry DeBie. Home from Korea, the soldier is enjoying a 30-day leave. At the end of that period he will report to Camp Roberts for further assignment. He spent nine months in rigorous combat service.

During his tour of duty in Korea, Cpl. DeBie participated in fighting in the areas designated as the Iron Triangle and Heartbreak Ridge. Previous to his combat service, DeBie was in training for two and a half months in Japan. Before entering the service, he was a student at Bellflower Christian School.

His brother, Marvin, 21, still is with the armed forces in Korea, having been assigned to that sector after Henry DeBie had been overseas a month. Two younger sisters reside with the parents.

Miss D. Bouse Tells Surprise Wedding Rites

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Bouse, 8371 Gay st., revealed the news of the marriage of their daughter, Miss Dorise Bouse, to HM2 Henry A. "Hank" Miller. The couple surprised their families and friends by reciting wedding vows in Mexico on Friday, May 30, Decoration Day.

The bride attended Excelsior High school and was graduated from Anaheim High school. She attended Long Beach City college for two years. Now employed at Northrop, she will continue her duties there. The newlyweds plan to live in Cypress until his expected release from the navy in November at Cypress Cottages.

Formerly from Minnesota, the groom was a salesman for Blue Cross insurance prior to his recall in Long Beach back into the service.

Won't Say "Quit"— Begins Anew

Your're never too old to learn, or start in a new enterprise, as one of our local citizens is finding out. Ray Edwards, 5412 Camp st., has been ill with nephritis since last December and was recently released by the doctor.

The doctor's advice, however, was for him to spend as much time as possible out-of-doors. So with a living to make and a family to rear, he bought a power mower and a set of tools and can be seen around town mowing and trimming lawns! This, after over thirty years of retail store activity and public relations work is quite a change, but Edwards says he'll study grass, lawns, shrubs and flowers until he's able to know one from the other. Right now he says, "I know weeds."

"Peak demand" tells how much capacity we need!

"Generating capacity" isn't like warehouse capacity, where products can be stored and withdrawn as the need arises. Electricity can't be stored, so our capacity must be enough to make all the electricity that might be needed on our lines at any given moment. We keep records on that "peak demand" moment each year. In 1951 it was on October 24th—1,559,500 kilowatts. Over the past five years, each "peak" has been higher than the year before, by an average of 95,000 kilowatts. Still more important is the fact that we've kept ahead of peak demand—but it has cost us an average of one million dollars a month for more generating facilities alone.

Origin Of Club Is Subject Of Kiwanis Talk

Lt. Governor Franklin Sullivan of Buena Park visited the Cypress club at its meeting Monday night at Loyd's Drive-in and talked on the origin of the Kiwanis club.

He gave a detailed history of the beginning problems and experiences of the members, and how the idea developed from a meeting of two men in Detroit, to a membership of several hundred thousand.

H. A. Kelley presented Sullivan to the group. Miss Alene Rogers accompanied the group singing and Dick Hathcock presided at the meeting.

Taxes Lower Standard Of Living

Just how heavy a Federal hand will reach into Southern California breadwinner pockets in Orange County to snatch away their earnings if the proposed 1953 budget is approved? What will be the effect on family life?

Enough, probably, to smash the most cherished dreams of the breadwinner for himself and his family—unless Government inflation is curtailed.

This is the way the situation was summed up today by Lane D. Webber, national vice-president of the National Association of Manufacturers and vice-president of Southern California Edison Company.

"Figures may be dull", said Mr. Webber, "but these are sharp enough to cut down the hopes for that new home, automobile, television set, washingmachine or furniture.

"Here are the statistics for your area: Orange County share of the $85.4 billion federal budget — $155,276,100 as compared with the value of the county taxable property for 1951-1952, $462,789,740.

"It disturbs me that so many Americans must postpone their purchase of really necessary things, which are the physical basis of family life — because family life is the basis of the strength of the nation.

"Here are the statistics paving the road to bankruptcy for our people: Since the outbreak of the Korean 'police action', federal taxes have risen so fast and far as to take nearly one-fourth the income of the average Southern California breadwinner; the average wage and salary earner's share of the national debt now approaches $5,000, which is certainly a mortgage against our future standard of living; and the Southern California breadwinner each year must dig up about $170 out of his income just to support federal jobholders, who are increasing in numbers.

"Direct federal taxes take about $200 and hidden taxes about $700 from the average Southern California earner.

"All this means that in a matter of four or five years, government inflated taxes can take away from a breadwinner enough to make a down payment on a home; in a year they can take away enough to meet the payments.

"Should unnecessary and confiscatory taxes deprive young home makers of furniture and household necessities — or postpone the start of a family?" Webber asked.

Large Class To Be Grads From Cypress School In '52

As another school term draws to a close, another eighth grade class in the Cypress Elementary school looks forward to graduation. Baccalaureate service for the 48 students who will enter high next fall will be held Sunday, June 8, in the auditorium of the school at 3 p.m. Parents, friends and graduates are invited to attend, according to Miss Elizabeth Dickerson, superintendent.

On Thursday evening, June 12, exercises will be held at 8 p.m. in the auditorium. Parents and friends will witness the presentation of diplomas. School will close officially for the grads the next morning at 11:30 p.m.

SOCIAL NIGHT FOR POST, AUXILIARY

There will be nothing unlucky for those lucky VFW post and auxiliary members who attend the bingo party. Planned for Friday evening, June 13 at 7:30 o'clock, the affair will be held in the VFW hall at the corner of Lincoln and Miller.

Members and friends are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit Vander Mei, 9054 Watson st., are enjoying a motor trip to Hawarden and other points in western Iowa where they are visiting relatives and former friends. He is on vacation from his duties with the George Verhoeven company in Artesia.

Mr. and Mrs. "C" Thompson took a real holiday Friday. They drove to the tops of two different mountain highways to the east, then drove west to Santa Monica where they enjoyed the wrestling matches in the evening.

COMPANY FOR G. HUBBARDS'

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn A. Hubbard spent Tuesday until Thursday at their cabin at Twin Peaks near Lake Gregory. Their guest there was George Hobbs of Bakersfield.

When they arrived home, Hubbard's son, Edgar A. Hubbard, had driven in from New York, and had brought along two buddies for the ride. The trio is enjoying southern California, and the Hubbards' hospitality.

Mrs. Edgar Hubbard remained in New York until wee Richard John is old enough to travel safely and her husband has found a place for them to live. It is expected that they will fly out.

'Chit-Chat from The Teeners'

By Gloria McKinzie and her helpers

Nolan Blackman, Ann Giardino, Fernando Ramos, and Delores Giardino went all over Hollywood and Beverly Hills Monday night and climaxed the evening with a luscious dinner at the Brown Derby.

Hunt Foods Start Work, $250,000 Office Building

Part of a vast expansion plan by Hunt Foods, Inc., construction was started this month of a 25,000 square feet, quarter-of-a million dollar general office building at the company's headquarters near Fullerton.

To expedite completion by August 20, contracts were signed, ground was broken and surveyors started to work all in one day at the three-acre site adjacent to the Hunt Fullerton plant.

Signing the contract were Edward Mittelman, vice-president and treasurer of Hunt Foods; J. W. Lindsay, vice-president of Lindgren and Swinerton, builders; and Douglas McLellan, architect who designed and planned the modern steel and concrete structure.

Believed to be the largest and most modern of its type in Orange County, the new office building will house more than 200 employees in soundproof, acclimatized air-conditioned surroundings, complete with non-glare lighting. A parking area capable of accomodating 100 automobiles also is planned.

Personnel in the new offices will service Hunt factories in California, Oregon, Washington, Utah, Ohio and New Jersey.

Lindgren and Swinerton, specialists in industrial construction, built the famed Santa Anita race track and the Sir Frances Drake hotel in San Francisco.

Mrs. Frank Williams went to Bishop this week. She attended a niece's graduation ceremonies from the high school there.

Santa Fe Starts New San Diego Diesel Trains

First "diesel car" train service in Southern California was inauguarted Wednesday between Los Angeles and San Diego by the Santa Fe Railway.

The diesel car is a stainless steel, self-propelled passenger car and Santa Fe will operate them as two-car trains on two round-trip schedules daily between Los Angeles and San Diego.

Two of the runs by the new powered cars will provide nonstop commuter service between the two cities, taking two hours and 15 minutes for the trip. This is 30 minutes faster than previous schedules.

The other two runs by the new trains will make regular stops at Fullerton, Santa Ana and Oceanside, and flag stops at Orange, Anaheim, San Juan Capistrano, San Clemente, Del Mar and Encinitas. They will operate on a schedule of two hours and 45 minutes.

Powered by two 275-horsepower diesel engines with controls at both ends, each of the new cars is 85 feet long and has a capacity of 80 passengers. Cruising speed is 70 miles an hour. Maximum speed under a full load is 83 miles an hour.

All seats on the nonstop commuter trains will be reserved and extra 50 cents charged each way. Fares on the new trains making local stops will be the same as present fares on the San Diegan.

— June is Dairy Month —

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Priddy and Mrs. Ellen Jennings, accompanied by their various and sundry small fry, waited until Monday to holiday, when the weekend was well over but welcome days off were theirs. They picnicked in the Anaheim park, deciding in the middle of the afternoon to take a "drive." This brought them to San Pedro, and another out-of-doors meal in a small park reached by ferry boat.

H. Rodger Howell and Secretary W. D. Miller of the water district presented Orange county's protest. They reminded the commissioner that Orange county is at the far end of the line, so far as Santa Ana river water is concerned; that we have a very large property value dependent upon our water supply, and have for several years expended large sums to import Colorado river water because there wasn't enough local water. If there isn't enough there certainly isn't a surplus and if there isn't a surplus, then no one has a legal right to take any of the supply.

The attempted diversion being opposed was insignificant. A rancher named Wilson wants to appropriate .15 of a second foot, from the Patton storm drain, emptying into Warm creek, in San Bernardino county.

The poor fellow certainly needs the water. Two years ago he bought 11 acres and set it out to deciduous fruit trees. Then his well failed. So he put a bulkhead in the storm drain and began pumping water out of it to save his orchard. Then he filed application with the state to gain right to divert the water.

It wasn't much. It wouldn't hurt anyone. But if it were permitted, others could not be stopped and pretty soon it would hurt like sixty in Orange county. There would be some orchards drying up here.

So we've had to keep a sharp eye on 'em, Now, if the state accepts our thesis, maybe we can relax.

DEFENSE IS YOUR JOB, TOO!

Lynx Host Phoenix For 3

Buena Park's Lynx played the Orange Lionettes Wednesday night to launch a four-game Pacific Coast Girls League home stay. Friday, the Lynx open a three-game series with the Phoenix Ramblers at Buena Park. Saturday's game with Phoenix will be played at Amerige Park and next Tuesday's back at Buena Park.

The Lynx whitewashed the Ramblers twice over the weekend. Joan Alsup hurled a five-hitter Saturday night for a 3-0 triumph and Bev Meissen tossed a seven-hitter for a 1-0 victory Sunday night. Buena Park dropped the exhibition opener, 2-1, Friday night.

Coach Bud Averett was especially pleased with the fine performance of the infield and Catcher Bobbie McDaniel.

The Lynx scored all of their runs Saturday in the sixth inning, which included singles by Ruby Moore, McDaniel, Tommie Slappey and Patty Averett.

Meissen won her own game when she singled to score Slappey, who had doubled, in the top of the seventh.

MERCHANTS EDGE GRACE LUTHERANS IN 2-0 VICTORY

In a contest between pitchers, Cypress Merchants took the big end of a 2-0 score in a game with Grace Lutheran in La Palma park Monday night. Tom Ritchie and Art Altheide were the respective pitchers.

Ritchie struck out 12 and yielded only two hits, while Altheide fanned 10 and was nicked for three safeties. Ritchie struck out the first seven men he faced. Bill Geiger hit safely in the third when no one covered first on his bunt.

Johnny Borges scored both of the Cypress runs. He gave Ritchie a one-run margin to work with in the first, when he singled and subsequently tallied. He added another in sixth when he was safe on a three-base error and then was driven home by Dick Gulman's single.

Aids Capture

in a Ventura Market last month. Sheriff's officers said they would try to link the pair with several other safe jobs which have occurred in Orange County during the past month.

Autry and Pipkin (or Bell) were captured only about a block away from the lumber company as they attempted to escape in their car after burglary. They were halted when Lentz stepped in front of their car and ordered them to halt.

Equipment Found

Found in the car besides the money and checks were two crowbars, a sledge hammer in the truck and several dynamite caps in the glove compartment.

Both men admitted to having served time in California and Texas prisons. Pipkin, or Bell, admitted to having served at least three previous prison sentences while Autry admitted to two prison terms.

The "hunch" stakeout on the pair's car, was ordered by Sheriff's Lt. Elmer Parker after Lentz and Broadbelt had discovered the car parked under a row of trees near the lumber yard at 6586 Grand Ave.

After shaking down the auto and finding the crowbars, sledge and dynamite caps, the officers notified their office and asked for permission to impound the auto.

Instead they were ordered to "stake out" on the vehicle and watch for the possible owners.

A few seconds later, the officers saw the car drive away and halted it at Manchester Blvd. and Grand Ave.

Investigating officers said Pipkin and Autry entered the lumber company office through a rear window about midnight. Once inside, they turned the office safe onto its side, pounded off the dial and then punched out the pins of the safe. From then on, it was a simple matter for them to scoop out the money and checks and flee, sheriff's officers said.

Lentz and Broadbelt said they became suspicious of the car when they spotted it parked under the trees near the so-called "haunted house" near the lumber yard. When they investigated, they said, they found the car bore New Mexico license plates and the engine was still warm.

Mr. and Mrs. Dixon enjoyed one of the first holidays they have experienced in years. They closed down their business entirely and attended a "fish fry" on Friday and went to the races on Saturday. Then they wished they had another holiday on Monday to rest up from the holiday.

Car Wreck Ends Duo's Fish Trek

What started out to be a pleasant fishing jaunt to Ensenada for Don Williams and Jim Gentry, a friend of the Frank Williams's, ended disastrously Friday evening. The light Chevrolet failed to negotiate a turn within ten miles of their goal, rolling over three times and landing on its wheels with Williams pinned underneath. He suffered three broken ribs, torn ligaments and burns on the face.

Gentry was able to drive the car back to Cypress, while Williams is recuperating at his mother's home in San Diego, following his release from the hospital. It is estimated that he will not be able to return to work for at least six weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Brenneman and sons Tommy and Kenny spent the holiday weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Corby. The family enjoyed a picnic in the park at Fullerton on Friday.
